

DAILY DEMOCRAT.

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED AT HARNEY & HUGHES,
THIRD STREET,

BEST SIDE, BETWEEN MARKET AND JEFFERSON.
NOTICE TO READERS.—Let it be remembered that no information can be paid for advance, given to us of Public Meetings, or of Firemen's, Masons', Odd-Fellows', Rotarians, and similar meetings, or charged only half price, but must be paid before the advance. Those, therefore, that are sent in without the money, will not appear.

NOTICE.—All advertisements of a Half Square (sixteen columns) will be charged $100 per insertion, and 20 cents the first insertion, and 25 cents each additional insertion. Advertisements located in the moving Daily Democrat are inserted in the evening edition at half price.

AGENCY.—W. E. PALMER, corner Third and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia, and the Tribune Building,
New York, is the authorized agent to receive all news in those states for the Daily Democrat.

MONDAY, MARCH 12, 1855.

Our Relations with Spain.

The recent correspondence with Spain, just published, leaves our relations with that country in a very unsatisfactory condition. We have had, for many years past, cause of complaint against them. We have met with delays and evasions in every instance. The case of the Black Warrior is more aggravating than we had expected.

We expected something to mitigate or palliate the conduct of the Cuban officials, but the documents show it to be a wanton outrage, and insult, such as no nation should inflict.

Instead of showing any disposition to respond to our just demands, the Spanish Minister makes a shallow reply, passes over the main facts involved, denies all, fully proved, and flatly declines any satisfaction. It is well understood, from indications not to be misunderstood, that Spain, in this business, is supported by England and France. This is in fact, under the protection of those powers.

We have it now in the vicinity of that United States will not pass into the hands of any other European power. The Island is now under the protection of two of them; and Mr. Quincy observes, the protector and protege, but little in their relation to each other.

So the master stands, helpless for want of courage, if not of resolution.

What is the government of the United States to do? They will be compelled to act.

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United
States to do?

It is a question of the day, whether the
Spanish Minister will be induced to yield up
the Island, or whether he will remain in his
present position.

What is the government of the United States to do?

It is

DAILY DEMOCRAT

MINIATURE ALMANAC.
MARCH.	SUN. NOON MORN. & NIGHT.
12 Monday... 6 11 5 49
13 Tuesday... 6 12 5 51
14 Wednesday... 6 13 5 52
15 Thursday... 6 14 5 53
16 Friday... 6 15 5 54
17 Saturday... 6 16 5 55
18 Sunday... 6 17 5 56	NEW MOON 17 6 11 5 56

MONDAY, MARCH 12, 1855.

NOTICE.—A notice of a grocery stand to rent, corner of Sixth and Market.

SUSPENDED.—J. M. Patrick & Co., and A. A. Smithwick & Co., of Memphis, Tenn., have suspended.

FAIR POINT.—We are informed that a few sight took place in Floyd street, yesterday. No one was much hurt.

DEAN.—The Hon. Roger Barion, a man of considerable note in Mississippi, died at Helle Springs, Miss., last week.

ALARM OF FIRE.—The alarm of fire on Saturday evening was caused by some bedding catching fire at the residence of W. P. Thompson. Esq. Damage quite small.

THESE WERE MORE PERSONS ON THE STREET yesterday than we have seen any Sabbath for many years. It is accounted for when it is remembered that the coffee houses, &c., were shut up.

ARTESIAN WELL.—The artesian well, which is being bored at the Hopkinsville Asylum, is over one hundred feet deep. A vein of water has not as yet been struck sufficient to supply the wants of the institution.

BAPTIZING.—Some thousand or more persons witnessed the joyful baptism in the river, at the ordination of Major in the regular regiment, serving that single Field Officer being taken outside of the Army list, it is of treating his class lately.

HOW IT WORKS.—The drinking saloon on the Clark Street, and other hosts, were liberally patronized yesterday. A friend told us there were about ten times as many in the regular regiment, serving that single Field Officer being taken outside of the Army list, it is of treating his class lately.

SCIENTIFIC LECTURE.—The first of this course of lectures is open to the public, will be delivered by Prof. J. Livermore Smith, the professor at the College, on Medical College on Chestnut street, the subject for the evening at the Properties of Matter, and Oxygen Gas. The lectures are to be fully illustrated by experiments and diagrams. For particulars, we refer to the advertisement.

SUNDAY IN LIVERPOOL.—Yesterday the new Sunday liquor was sent into effect, and the general intelligence of the law, now have glutted the hearts of all who love a quiet day of rest. We were over a large portion of the city, and do not recall seeing even one coffee house or tavern open. This obedience to the law speaks well, we think, for the general character of the people.

WE HAVE BEEN constant observers of the manufacture and expense side of Dr. Blackwell's Saratoga and Verona, and are satisfied from the numerous high windings of its virtues, we see that it has not tried equal.

We can safely say it has a very extensive sale at home, and with all of the energy of the proprietor and his assistants—still many orders are had over, each to his term. At the season has not arrived for tea and dyes, and therefore, to look out for a tonic and aperitif, we advise them Blackwell's Saratoga.

HOUSE AND LOT FURNISHED AT AUCTION.—We remind our reader that Mr. C. G. Spencer sells this morning one of the best located residences in our city, with a large and handsomely appointed lot, on Sixth street, between Walnut and Chestnut. Also, a splendid lot of new furniture. The house will be sold precisely at 10 o'clock, and the furniture immediately thereafter. To those who wish such a residence or furniture, should not fail to attend punctually.

THE gentry stationed at Cosi, Vicksburg, are nearly reduced to starvation, had broken out in my early in February, and had plundered and demolished the stores of the Jewish inhabitants of the city. The latter were threatened with extermination if they did not immediately leave, and many had accordingly fled to Carondelet. On learning these facts, the Governor of the Island despatched, on the 7th, two Dutch men-of-war to the Bay of Cosi, to protect the persons and property of the Jewish citizens.

Mrs. Selden, Withers & Co., have put a card in relation to their indebtedness to the State of Virginia. They state that they are unable at present to give the exact amount, but they express great confidence that in due time it will be paid for dollar for dollar, with interest.

They further state that at one time the State was indebted to them for advances for upwards of $2,000,000, at a time, too, when they might have sold its bonds, which they held, at par, instead of fighting the market for a premium.

KOSUTH AGAIN.—The N. Y. Times publishes a second letter from Kosuth, addressed to a gentleman in this country. In the course of it, he tells the men of America to be prepared for great events. He says the war (conducted) is unpopular in France, and that the French army in the Crimea is trembling on the brink of a revolt. Also, that in France, the "conservatism" had better be traced to the prevailing influence of the regiments—Austrian, English and French—so as to be leavened by their influence.

Their families are made responsible, and can get no substitute under $6000 francs ($2,400).

Mr. Selden, Withers & Co., have put a card in relation to their indebtedness to the State of Virginia. They state that they are unable at present to give the exact amount, but they express great confidence that in due time it will be paid for dollar for dollar, with interest.

They further state that at one time the State was indebted to them for advances for upwards of $2,000,000, at a time, too, when they might have sold its bonds, which they held, at par, instead of fighting the market for a premium.

KOSUTH AGAIN.—The N. Y. Times publishes a second letter from Kosuth, addressed to a gentleman in this country. In the course of it, he tells the men of America to be prepared for great events. He says the war (conducted) is unpopular in France, and that the French army in the Crimea is trembling on the brink of a revolt. Also, that in France, the "conservatism" had better be traced to the prevailing influence of the regiments—Austrian, English and French—so as to be leavened by their influence.

Their families are made responsible, and can get no substitute under $6000 francs ($2,400).

Mr. Selden, Withers & Co., have put a card in relation to their indebtedness to the State of Virginia. They state that they are unable at present to give the exact amount, but they express great confidence that in due time it will be paid for dollar for dollar, with interest.

They further state that at one time the State was indebted to them for advances for upwards of $2,000,000, at a time, too, when they might have sold its bonds, which they held, at par, instead of fighting the market for a premium.

KOSUTH AGAIN.—The N. Y. Times publishes a second letter from Kosuth, addressed to a gentleman in this country. In the course of it, he tells the men of America to be prepared for great events. He says the war (conducted) is unpopular in France, and that the French army in the Crimea is trembling on the brink of a revolt. Also, that in France, the "conservatism" had better be traced to the prevailing influence of the regiments—Austrian, English and French—so as to be leavened by their influence.

Their families are made responsible, and can get no substitute under $6000 francs ($2,400).

Mr. Selden, Withers & Co., have put a card in relation to their indebtedness to the State of Virginia. They state that they are unable at present to give the exact amount, but they express great confidence that in due time it will be paid for dollar for dollar, with interest.

They further state that at one time the State was indebted to them for advances for upwards of $2,000,000, at a time, too, when they might have sold its bonds, which they held, at par, instead of fighting the market for a premium.

KOSUTH AGAIN.—The N. Y. Times publishes a second letter from Kosuth, addressed to a gentleman in this country. In the course of it, he tells the men of America to be prepared for great events. He says the war (conducted) is unpopular in France, and that the French army in the Crimea is trembling on the brink of a revolt. Also, that in France, the "conservatism" had better be traced to the prevailing influence of the regiments—Austrian, English and French—so as to be leavened by their influence.

Their families are made responsible, and can get no substitute under $6000 francs ($2,400).

Mr. Selden, Withers & Co., have put a card in relation to their indebtedness to the State of Virginia. They state that they are unable at present to give the exact amount, but they express great confidence that in due time it will be paid for dollar for dollar, with interest.

They further state that at one time the State was indebted to them for advances for upwards of $2,000,000, at a time, too, when they might have sold its bonds, which they held, at par, instead of fighting the market for a premium.

KOSUTH AGAIN.—The N. Y. Times publishes a second letter from Kosuth, addressed to a gentleman in this country. In the course of it, he tells the men of America to be prepared for great events. He says the war (conducted) is unpopular in France, and that the French army in the Crimea is trembling on the brink of a revolt. Also, that in France, the "conservatism" had better be traced to the prevailing influence of the regiments—Austrian, English and French—so as to be leavened by their influence.

Their families are made responsible, and can get no substitute under $6000 francs ($2,400).

Mr. Selden, Withers & Co., have put a card in relation to their indebtedness to the State of Virginia. They state that they are unable at present to give the exact amount, but they express great confidence that in due time it will be paid for dollar for dollar, with interest.

They further state that at one time the State was indebted to them for advances for upwards of $2,000,000, at a time, too, when they might have sold its bonds, which they held, at par, instead of fighting the market for a premium.

KOSUTH AGAIN.—The N. Y. Times publishes a second letter from Kosuth, addressed to a gentleman in this country. In the course of it, he tells the men of America to be prepared for great events. He says the war (conducted) is unpopular in France, and that the French army in the Crimea is trembling on the brink of a revolt. Also, that in France, the "conservatism" had better be traced to the prevailing influence of the regiments—Austrian, English and French—so as to be leavened by their influence.

Their families are made responsible, and can get no substitute under $6000 francs ($2,400).

Mr. Selden, Withers & Co., have put a card in relation to their indebtedness to the State of Virginia. They state that they are unable at present to give the exact amount, but they express great confidence that in due time it will be paid for dollar for dollar, with interest.

They further state that at one time the State was indebted to them for advances for upwards of $2,000,000, at a time, too, when they might have sold its bonds, which they held, at par, instead of fighting the market for a premium.

KOSUTH AGAIN.—The N. Y. Times publishes a second letter from Kosuth, addressed to a gentleman in this country. In the course of it, he tells the men of America to be prepared for great events. He says the war (conducted) is unpopular in France, and that the French army in the Crimea is trembling on the brink of a revolt. Also, that in France, the "conservatism" had better be traced to the prevailing influence of the regiments—Austrian, English and French—so as to be leavened by their influence.

Their families are made responsible, and can get no substitute under $6000 francs ($2,400).

Mr. Selden, Withers & Co., have put a card in relation to their indebtedness to the State of Virginia. They state that they are unable at present to give the exact amount, but they express great confidence that in due time it will be paid for dollar for dollar, with interest.

They further state that at one time the State was indebted to them for advances for upwards of $2,000,000, at a time, too, when they might have sold its bonds, which they held, at par, instead of fighting the market for a premium.

KOSUTH AGAIN.—The N. Y. Times publishes a second letter from Kosuth, addressed to a gentleman in this country. In the course of it, he tells the men of America to be prepared for great events. He says the war (conducted) is unpopular in France, and that the French army in the Crimea is trembling on the brink of a revolt. Also, that in France, the "conservatism" had better be traced to the prevailing influence of the regiments—Austrian, English and French—so as to be leavened by their influence.

Their families are made responsible, and can get no substitute under $6000 francs ($2,400).

Mr. Selden, Withers & Co., have put a card in relation to their indebtedness to the State of Virginia. They state that they are unable at present to give the exact amount, but they express great confidence that in due time it will be paid for dollar for dollar, with interest.

They further state that at one time the State was indebted to them for advances for upwards of $2,000,000, at a time, too, when they might have sold its bonds, which they held, at par, instead of fighting the market for a premium.

KOSUTH AGAIN.—The N. Y. Times publishes a second letter from Kosuth, addressed to a gentleman in this country. In the course of it, he tells the men of America to be prepared for great events. He says the war (conducted) is unpopular in France, and that the French army in the Crimea is trembling on the brink of a revolt. Also, that in France, the "conservatism" had better be traced to the prevailing influence of the regiments—Austrian, English and French—so as to be leavened by their influence.

Their families are made responsible, and can get no substitute under $6000 francs ($2,400).

Mr. Selden, Withers & Co., have put a card in relation to their indebtedness to the State of Virginia. They state that they are unable at present to give the exact amount, but they express great confidence that in due time it will be paid for dollar for dollar, with interest.

They further state that at one time the State was indebted to them for advances for upwards of $2,000,000, at a time, too, when they might have sold its bonds, which they held, at par, instead of fighting the market for a premium.

KOSUTH AGAIN.—The N. Y. Times publishes a second letter from Kosuth, addressed to a gentleman in this country. In the course of it, he tells the men of America to be prepared for great events. He says the war (conducted) is unpopular in France, and that the French army in the Crimea is trembling on the brink of a revolt. Also, that in France, the "conservatism" had better be traced to the prevailing influence of the regiments—Austrian, English and French—so as to be leavened by their influence.

Their families are made responsible, and can get no substitute under $6000 francs ($2,400).

Mr. Selden, Withers & Co., have put a card in relation to their indebtedness to the State of Virginia. They state that they are unable at present to give the exact amount, but they express great confidence that in due time it will be paid for dollar for dollar, with interest.

They further state that at one time the State was indebted to them for advances for upwards of $2,000,000, at a time, too, when they might have sold its bonds, which they held, at par, instead of fighting the market for a premium.

KOSUTH AGAIN.—The N. Y. Times publishes a second letter from Kosuth, addressed to a gentleman in this country. In the course of it, he tells the men of America to be prepared for great events. He says the war (conducted) is unpopular in France, and that the French army in the Crimea is trembling on the brink of a revolt. Also, that in France, the "conservatism" had better be traced to the prevailing influence of the regiments—Austrian, English and French—so as to be leavened by their influence.

Their families are made responsible, and can get no substitute under $6000 francs ($2,400).

Mr. Selden, Withers & Co., have put a card in relation to their indebtedness to the State of Virginia. They state that they are unable at present to give the exact amount, but they express great confidence that in due time it will be paid for dollar for dollar, with interest.

They further state that at one time the State was indebted to them for advances for upwards of $2,000,000, at a time, too, when they might have sold its bonds, which they held, at par, instead of fighting the market for a premium.

KOSUTH AGAIN.—The N. Y. Times publishes a second letter from Kosuth, addressed to a gentleman in this country. In the course of it, he tells the men of America to be prepared for great events. He says the war (conducted) is unpopular in France, and that the French army in the Crimea is trembling on the brink of a revolt. Also, that in France, the "conservatism" had better be traced to the prevailing influence of the regiments—Austrian, English and French—so as to be leavened by their influence.

Their families are made responsible, and can get no substitute under $6000 francs ($2,400).

Mr. Selden, Withers & Co., have put a card in relation to their indebtedness to the State of Virginia. They state that they are unable at present to give the exact amount, but they express great confidence that in due time it will be paid for dollar for dollar, with interest.

They further state that at one time the State was indebted to them for advances for upwards of $2,000,000, at a time, too, when they might have sold its bonds, which they held, at par, instead of fighting the market for a premium.

KOSUTH AGAIN.—The N. Y. Times publishes a second letter from Kosuth, addressed to a gentleman in this country. In the course of it, he tells the men of America to be prepared for great events. He says the war (conducted) is unpopular in France, and that the French army in the Crimea is trembling on the brink of a revolt. Also, that in France, the "conservatism" had better be traced to the prevailing influence of the regiments—Austrian, English and French—so as to be leavened by their influence.

Their families are made responsible, and can get no substitute under $6000 francs ($2,400).

Mr. Selden, Withers & Co., have put a card in relation to their indebtedness to the State of Virginia. They state that they are unable at present to give the exact amount, but they express great confidence that in due time it will be paid for dollar for dollar, with interest.

They further state that at one time the State was indebted to them for advances for upwards of $2,000,000, at a time, too, when they might have sold its bonds, which they held, at par, instead of fighting the market for a premium.

KOSUTH AGAIN.—The N. Y. Times publishes a second letter from Kosuth, addressed to a gentleman in this country. In the course of it, he tells the men of America to be prepared for great events. He says the war (conducted) is unpopular in France, and that the French army in the Crimea is trembling on the brink of a revolt. Also, that in France, the "conservatism" had better be traced to the prevailing influence of the regiments—Austrian, English and French—so as to be leavened by their influence.

Their families are made responsible, and can get no substitute under $6000 francs ($2,400).

Mr. Selden, Withers & Co., have put a card in relation to their indebtedness to the State of Virginia. They state that they are unable at present to give the exact amount, but they express great confidence that in due time it will be paid for dollar for dollar, with interest.

They further state that at one time the State was indebted to them for advances for upwards of $2,000,000, at a time, too, when they might have sold its bonds, which they held, at par, instead of fighting the market for a premium.

KOSUTH AGAIN.—The N. Y. Times publishes a second letter from Kosuth, addressed to a gentleman in this country. In the course

